TROPICAL CYCLONE BULLETIN NR. 24F
Typhoon VERBENA (KOTO)

Issued at 11:00 PM, 27 November 2025

TRACK AND INTENSITY OUTLOOK

- It must be emphasized that heavy rainfall and severe winds may still be experienced the forecast confidence cone. Refer to “Other Hazards affecting Land Areas” for more details. Furthermore, the track may still shift within the limit of the forecast confidence cone.
- VERBENA is forecast to move slowly throughout the forecast period. On the track forecast, it will move west southwestward tonight, westward or west northwestward tomorrow (28 November), generally north northwestward during the weekend (29 to 30 November), then west southwestward or westward towards Vietnam for the remainder of the forecast period.
- VERBENA is forecast to slightly weaken over the next 48 hours and may be downgraded into a severe tropical storm tomorrow. Afterwards, VERBENA may re-intensify briefly into a typhoon over the weekend. After this period, the tropical cyclone will have a more sustained weakening trend while moving closer to Vietnam.

Considering these developments, the public and disaster risk reduction and management offices concerned are advised to take all necessary measures to protect life and property. Persons living in areas identified to be highly or very highly susceptible to these hazards are advised to follow evacuation and other instructions from local officials. For heavy rainfall warnings, thunderstorm/rainfall advisories, and other severe weather information specific to your area, please monitor products issued by your local PAGASA Regional Services Division.

With this development and unless re-entry occurs, this is the final tropical cyclone bulletin. Succeeding updates will be incorporated in the 24-Hour Public Weather Forecast issued at 4:00 AM and 4:00 PM daily.
